New "GlazeTech" Test Kiln from Skutt

This is a true Cone 10 Test Kiln. Unlike most test kilns the GlazeTech is designed to run on 240V but still only requires a 20 Amp breaker (208V models require a 30 Amp breaker). This gives the power needed to design a truly useful chamber size. It's square design makes it perfect to fire test tiles on multiple levels and with it's 9" depth you can actually test short cylinders to see how your glaze performs on a vertical surface.

Retail: $1150

Delivery Schedule

The new delivery schedule for January through June 2012 is included with this mailing.

Kiln Price Increases

Paragon has announced a price increase effective January 17th. Skutt has not announced a date yet
